

Valencia Water Company Security Measures

The tragic events of September 11, 2001 have resulted in a heightened awareness of homeland security issues. Valencia Water Company (VWC) wishes to assure customers that all necessary preventative measures are being taken to ensure the delivery of a dependable supply of safe, reliable water.

While specific security actions cannot be detailed, it is important to VWC that customers know it has always been the priority to provide a water supply that is safe. As awareness and concern have increased, additional procedures have been implemented to enhance protective measures already in place.

VWC continues its regimen of water testing at numerous locations throughout the distribution system with maximum diligence. An Emergency Response Plan to prepare for both natural disasters and terrorism is already in place, and is updated on an ongoing basis.

Valencia Water Company remains committed to protecting the water supply; every necessary preventative measure will be taken to ensure its safety.
